January Safety Meeting for Office Personnel Cold Weather Stress

Prolonged exposure to frosty conditions may cause injury or death. Learn about conditions that cause or contribute to cold stress and injury. Different forms of cold stress, from frostbite to hypothermia, are discussed and the proper treatment of them. Tips for avoiding and controlling the hazards associated with cold weather are provided to help keep you comfortable and healthy when spending time outdoors in the cold.

This session will be presented by Zane Mathews of the Denton Safety Team
