#	RESPONSES	DATE
1	Thanks for asking	4/9/2021 6:41 AM
2	I prefer Concept 1 far and above the other choices. I enjoy the garden and I enjoy the playground, but they need to remain as distinct areas. I am very excited to see raised beds being considered. I like the idea of adding a small pavilion, but Bowling Green shouldn't try to compete with North Lakes to be a major gathering place. Thank you.	4/8/2021 10:36 PM
3	Thank you.	4/8/2021 10:24 PM
4	More lush greens the better! So many parks look like concrete places, not nature places. Please incorporate nature as much as possible! Wood and stone designs are great! (Less metals, less concrete)	4/8/2021 9:41 PM
5	Prefer long paved trail loop, lighting, move orchard away from playground, connect trail to Windsor with crosswalk	4/8/2021 9:23 PM
6	My highest priority is the path across the creek near the pavilion and the path all the way to windsor with a path east and west	4/8/2021 9:21 PM
7	My concern with a fruit tree orchard is the amount of fruit that are dropped on the ground from the trees. We have a plum tree, and every year it is a huge ordeal getting the plums off the tree and getting them off the ground before insects and other animals come after them. Also when you accidentally step on them, it tracks a lot of mess around where you walk. Fruit trees require a lot of maintenance during a specific time of year, and I'm not sure this is a good option for a neighborhood park.	4/8/2021 7:00 PM
8	Love option two, with no labyrinth, fruit trees to the east and not right in front of the park, and the larger loop in option 3	4/8/2021 6:56 PM
9	Desire a trail connection from Bowling Green Park to North Lakes Park via mid-block crossing across Windsor.	4/8/2021 6:55 PM
10	There was no "none" option for any of the questions. I prefer longer trails and no pavilion.	4/8/2021 6:54 PM
11	I like the radial garden design and think it would better accommodate wheelchair access than a grid design, that is, space might be better utilized. Also, so much of our lives take place in grids, so curved elements can provide a psychological relief along with natural elements and open space.	4/8/2021 6:49 PM
